2020 Events Calendar

Summary version

Where business comes to life

Welcome to the 2020 Events Calendar

Mark Swain
Director of Partnerships

What a time to be a leader! If only you had the time to be a leader. I'm steadfastly holding the view that this is the most exciting time to be one. However, most of our delegates say they are experiencing constant change that is deeply affecting an increasingly under-resourced and super-pressurised team or function. Some are struggling and, actually, many are thriving. Our coffee conversations and business intelligence reveal that most are somewhere in between – working hard to progress their part of the business and managing many competing pressures. But we can't keep managing; we have to be leading...

But how do you truly lead when there is so little time? How do you become more people focused, when you're caught up in all things operational? And what helps you to keep things steady, when someone (or something) is rocking the very foundations on which your business is built?

The answer is, of course, The Henley Partnership. In 2020 we're focusing on two things. The first is keeping you in shape to be that uber boss everyone expects you to be – resilient and results-driven; tuned-in and empathetic; communicative and decisive. The second is providing some of the quickest and most effective ways to make you a better leader – think of it like having leadership on speed dial. We will build on what you already know, and occasionally check back to make sure you have developed some of the fundamental skills you may have missed along the way. Finally, we'll also go further in areas, such as strategy, where frankly we all need a stretch.

So, explore our much-changed calendar. Enjoy how many new events we have planned. You may notice that, whilst each event is categorised into two themes, we have carefully selected those that are more universal. If you only have time to attend one or two events this year, we thought we should offer you something that positively affects pretty-much everything you do.

Spring, summer, autumn or winter, I look forward to seeing you in 2020.

How the process works

There are five key stages:

Review the calendar

You can review the calendar here and decide which events you would like to attend. These are your own selections, or you will have been invited or asked to join a specific event. “Up to” indicates the maximum number per member organisation, it is not an allocation of places. All places are subject to availability at the time of nomination.

Request
a place

You will be able to complete the nomination form to request a place. Once we open for bookings (22 January 2020), this form may be found by clicking the yellow “Request a Place (members only)” button that appears on various screens and to the right of the description of each event. Once you have submitted the completed form, your HR/L&D contact will review it to ensure the information is correct. Your nomination will either be approved, waitlisted or occasionally declined (with a reason given).

Receive your confirmation

Approved and waitlisted nominations will then be sent to us. You will be either given a place (and receive your confirmation from us), or advised that you are on the waitlist. Please note that nomination forms are dealt with on a first come first served basis and a place cannot be booked or held without an approved nomination form.

Joining instructions

If you were originally waitlisted, you will be contacted six weeks before the event to say whether or not you will be offered a place. If you are waitlisted, please keep the date free in your diary as we work hard to accommodate as many waitlisted delegates as possible. Around 14 days before the event, you will receive joining instructions and details of any pre-work.

Attend event

We look forward to welcoming you to Henley Business School.

Explaining the themes

The programme matches the corporate priorities of our members; offering varied choice for all our delegates.

Innovation

Creating an innovation culture and optimising individual and group creativity, to produce profitable solutions to business challenges – now and in the future

Leadership

Offering practical and challenging insights about best practice and the fundamental skills of great leadership... We'll get you there, and keep you there!

Strategy

Defining, formulating and executing a better strategy that delivers value, and improving customer management and excellence to maintain a real competitive advantage

Engagement

Increasing influence and leadership impact, building high-performing teams and improving employee engagement to a level way above what you thought was possible

Organisation

Ensuring that your organisation has the right talent, people, architecture, infrastructure, processes and technology at all levels to support effective strategic delivery

Change

Providing fresh approaches to transformation and change, recognising that leading evolution – or revolution – is critical to the future success of every team and organisation

Coaching*

We recognise that leaders are developing more of a coaching style in their management of people. That's why this year we have added places on selected Coaching events (webinars and masterclasses) that come from the Henley Centre for Coaching and Behavioural Change. Within this calendar we have included those Coaching webinars and events that connect with the themes of The Henley Partnership programme. Other learning may be available on request.

Please contact thp@henley.ac.uk for further information and full terms and conditions.

How to Unleash Your Listening Mastery ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:
Coaching
Engagement

Speaker: Dr Stephen Burt

Key words: WEBINAR, Listening, Empathy, Communication, Reflection, Mentoring.

Time: 18:30 - 19:30

Places: Unlimited

Are you curious about how to deepen your signature listening practice?

Dr Stephen Burt's webinar will explore the science and art of listening to provide a comprehensive framework for listening well. He argues that, done well, listening is a foundation and profound expression of coaching mastery.

Attend this webinar if you want to discover ways to hone your listening through structured, reflective practice and other activities - many of which can be found in Stephen's 2019 book, The Art of Listening in Coaching and Mentoring.

10 March 2020

Humanising Digital ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:
Strategy
Organisation

Speaker: Conrad Evans and Chris England

Key words: Digital, Technology, Transformation, Leadership, Customers, Employee-Engagement, Productivity.

Time: 09:30 - 16:30

Places: Up to 2

Lead, follow or get left behind?

History has taught us that those who are most able to adapt will survive. With technology transforming the way we work, some people think the answer is all about investing in technology. They are wrong. Adaptation is all about mind-set. What got you here won't get you there.

Our practical and interactive session will equip you with tips and techniques to help you create a compelling ambition, become customer-obsessed, transform culture and create an employee experience that increases productivity and engagement. We show you how to lead in the digital world.

20:20 Leadership Communication ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:
Engagement
Leadership

Speaker: Darren Briggs

From Trump to the Kardashians, the latest internet influencers share a timeless piece of communications wisdom: lead the conversation, don't follow it. We know that the way people communicate has changed for good and the reality is that organisations have struggled to keep up.

Key words: Influence, Engagement, Communication, Conversation, Messaging, Leadership, Nimblicity.

Drawing on various case studies, this interactive session will give you practical tips from well-known leaders who are redefining how to shape the conversation and influence others. We'll explore how these leaders are masters of 'nimblicity'; being nimble and simple to ensure that their messages stick and influence behaviour.

Time: 09:30 - 16:30

Places: Up to 2

19 March 2020
Can You Crack the Code? ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:
Leadership
Engagement

Speaker: Debora Brockwell and Denise Fryer

You can't be a great leader without being a good manager. And good management involves communicating with clarity.

Key words: Management, Commissioning, Clarity, Communication.

But like an Enigma machine, managers like us are transmitting messages in a code that our people find hard to fathom. Believing we are making sense, we are in fact deleting and distorting information. That makes us difficult to understand - when now (more than ever) we need the message to be clear. Inspired by Henley's Developing Management Practice programme, this fun session enables you to crack your own code by developing the 3Cs (commissioning, clarity and communication).

Crazy Busy ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:
Organisation
Leadership

25% of our time is spent on 'organisational drag': activities that feel like work but don't create value. That's a lost day per week.

Speaker: Zena Everett

Full of new research and practical tools, after Crazy Busy™ you will focus on your priorities, set boundaries and regain that lost day.

Key words: Time, Efficiency, Productivity, Workload, Priorities, Value, Motivation.

Benefits include:

- Accelerate team productivity by controlling distractions and interruptions
- Manage more efficiently, including upwards
- Choose what to pay attention to
- Manage your perfectionism, procrastination and inability to push back and say 'No'
- Stop feeling overwhelmed

Time: 09:30 - 16:30

Team Coaching: From Present to Future ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:
Coaching
Leadership

Inspired by their forthcoming book on team coaching, Lucy and Paul will present their views on the status of team coaching and its future. There will be a Q&A session.

Speaker: Lucy Widdowson and Paul J.Barbour

The webinar will discuss:

- a definition of team coaching and the business case for team coaching
- differentiation from other team interventions
- developing as a team coach and the importance of a team coach's 'way of being', psychological safety, group dynamics and systemic thinking
- models, approaches and frameworks (including 'creating the team edge' framework)
- results from a study at a leading UK retailer
- what the future requires of team coaching

Key words: WEBINAR, Teams, Growth, Safety, Dynamics, Thinking.

The Generation Game ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:

Organisation
Engagement

In today's workplace, five generations - from the Silent Generation to Gen Z - are working side by side. How does an age range from late 70s down to 16 years affect the way workers communicate, interact and perform?

Speaker: Henry Rose Lee

This masterclass focuses on attracting, recruiting, engaging and retaining millennials and Gen Z, while encouraging harmony, inclusivity and performance across all generations.

Key words: Diversity, Inclusion, Generations, Attraction, Recruitment, Retention, Engagement, Performance, Communication.

Delegates will leave with:

- an 'innovation hub' checklist to harness the innovative, flexible thinking of Millennials/Gen Z
- a range of communication tools for intergenerational communication

Time: 09:30 - 16:30

Places: Up to 2

Strategy at Speed ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:

Strategy
Leadership

'Strategy at Speed' is an intense masterclass that equips participants with a different mindset, seeing strategic solutions much faster with greater clarity, and a shared language and toolset, to crack a large variety of issues.

Speaker: Fred Pelard

The day is structured as five short, energetic lectures and three group exercises on Fred's recent clients (Uber, Universal Music and IKEA). The key techniques seen are: Strategic Rollercoaster, Magic Tree, Pyramid Principle, Happy Line and Lean Start-up.

Key words: Strategy, Value, Proposition, Formulation, Thinking, Solutions, Models, Lean, Experimentation.

This is an extremely practical event. Participants typically start applying the techniques to their job the very next day.

How to Flourish in a Crazy World

Request a place

Themes:
Leadership
Change

Speaker: Dr Andy Cope

Key words: Energy, Happiness, Wellbeing, Resilience, Habits, Productivity, Impact, Change.

Time: 10:00 - 15:00 (please note different timings)

Places: Up to 2

Inspired by Andy Cope's book "The Art of Being Brilliant", this event provides an antidote to the crazy world that typifies modern Britain. The aim is to share some of the secrets of positive psychology, focusing on learning new habits of thinking and behaviour that will sustain your personal brilliance. Too many people are counting down to the weekend, accidentally wishing their life away. We figure there's a huge difference between 'being alive' and 'living' - if you decide to go for it, you will flourish and your positivity ripples out into your workplace and family.

The aim therefore is to challenge current habits and ways of thinking, to re-energise and enthuse staff for the challenges that lie ahead.

19 May 2020

Leading in an Exponential Age ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:
Strategy
Leadership

Speaker: Dean Van Leuwen

Key words: Megatrends, Future, Visioning, Mindset, Moonshots, Change, VUCA, Disruption.

Time: 09:30 - 16:30

Places: Up to 2

Using extensive research into megatrends and leadership moonshots, this programme provides participants with the mindset/tools to think and act strategically, enabling them to have a positive impact.

This programme helps participants to embrace new competences required as they navigate and lead through exponential change. We will explore the most recent advances in digital technologies and examine how five forces of progress and disruptive change are converging to transform everything. We will provide a deep dive into the latest leadership methodologies for succeeding in an exponential world.

Themes:

Leadership
Change

As a leader, you'll recognise the importance of staying current and reinvigorating your thinking, so why not partner with us to engage with the latest leadership insights?

Speaker: Professor Bernd Vogel, Professor David Pendleton and Professor Karen Jansen

With the Henley Centre for Leadership, The Henley Partnership brings you the first of our 'The Latest in Leadership' events. Each day includes three different mini-sessions, offering recent developments on existing topics, or new perspectives emerging from our research. We aim to challenge your thinking, enrich your practice and improve your impact as a leader, all while you network with inspired leaders from across our membership.

Key words: Research, Insight, Trends, Themes, Thinking, Updates, Refresher, Impact.

New market paradigms require new types of leaders to help organisations thrive in uncharted territory. During this workshop, Tammy and Francis from DPA offer a glimpse into the future. In bitesize interactions, using a comic book narrative and game format, they share research around six new leadership models that are thriving in some of the world's leading organisations.

Speaker: Tammy Day and Francis Briers

Working with other members of the group, from like-minded organisations, you will apply some of these new ideas to your own context and have the opportunity to 'build your own' model based on the traits that you see as most relevant for your business.

Key words: Future, Challenge, Archetypes, Characteristics, Styles, Gamification.

Critical Creativity: The Most Undervalued Leadership Skill ^{NEW}

Request a place

Themes:

Innovation
Change

The business world doesn't lack knowledge or expertise - it lacks the imagination of what to do with it. Thinking differently and creating new ideas adds huge value. Skills like creativity, deep thinking and problem-solving are in great demand.

Speaker: Kirk Vallis

Key words: Imagination, Innovation, Creativity, Mindset, Skillset, Decision-making.

Do we recognise the importance of creativity? Innovation requires two modes of thinking. We use one a lot: analysis, judgement and decision-making. How can we equally use the less recognised mindset: possibility and options?

Time: 09:30 - 16:30

This interactive workshop can help create parity across the skillset - needed if creativity is to have a measurable impact on business.

Gravitas – The Art and Science of Grace under Fire

Request a place

Themes:

Engagement
Leadership

Your tone, energy and presence are key in inspiring others. On a plane we assess the voice of the pilot; a calm, confident voice reflects an ability to respond well to turbulence. Embodied leadership is also tested in times of turbulence; leaders are judged by their grace under fire - an ability to maintain self-control, communicate effectively and maintain trust.

Speaker: Caroline Goyder

Key words: Gravitas, Presence, Impact, Influence, Persuasion, Leadership, Resilience.

This event provides a toolkit for centring yourself, so you can embody leadership in an authentic way. You'll learn how to deal with turbulence in meetings, to stay centred around difficult people and take this mindful, embodied practice forward.

Themes:

Leadership

Engagement

Speaker: Jane Sparrow and Owen Cook

Key words: Feedback, Conversations, PDR, Appraisals, Performance, Leadership.

Time: 09:30 - 16:30

Places: Up to 2

Nothing knots our stomachs quicker than the thought of giving tough feedback. We delay and worry about it for far too long. But feedback, done well, is very powerful. It's an art that can be learned and which improves with practice. In this session, we take you through the practical steps (literally) on how to have that conversation you are dreading... and make it a powerful intervention.

Beyond the difficult conversations, positive feedback is often missing in our busy world. The power of appreciation and a regular, well-timed 'keep going' is critical for sustainable high performance. Jane Sparrow (a regular speaker at The Henley Partnership) and her colleague Owen Cook (Head of Programmes at The Culture Builders) will guide you through the journey.

'If you are not leading change, you are not leading anything. You are just managing the status quo.' Campbell MacPherson Change has never been more critical. Both the way we work and the industries we work in are changing. Organisations able to seek out and embrace it will be the ones to thrive. But leading change is tough; 88% of such initiatives fail. Leaders not only have to accept change, they have to lead their people to embrace and deliver it.

This workshop introduces leaders to an approach that will help them to build a change-embracing culture in which sustainable change can be delivered successfully.

It is easy to assume that business innovation = doing different things. In the real world of day-to-day corporate life, however, radical innovation is extremely rare, and what leaders and managers tend to need most are the everyday lateral thinking skills that can help them to keep doing the same things slightly differently.

With this in mind, this session by James Bannerman - the bestselling author of Genius! and Business Genius! - is designed to inspire business professionals to look at the familiar from unfamiliar perspectives, to spark fresh ideas and improved solutions.

What can you do to remain resilient in tough times?

This event explores resilience from a behavioural perspective. It considers current trends towards marketplace chaos and deconstructs how top performers stay ahead of the stress curve.

The session is delivered in an interactive style, with case studies and behavioural models helping you to understand your own physiological and behavioural blueprint for future resilience.

You will leave with a 'personal resilience plan' for you and your organisation.

The only justification for being a manager is to manage performance. But how do you do it without looking either like a shouty bully or a gullible softie? How far can coaching be the solution? For certain it's not just about listening nicely; it will also mean knowing how to challenge, but in a way that is consistent with coaching principles.

This highly interactive masterclass will link coaching with the critical importance of staff engagement, show you a useful framework for any coaching discussion and allow you to assess your skills as a manager-coach.

Time: 09:30 - 16:30

Places: Up to 2

Sustainable leadership is about the practices and behaviours of organisations that consider environmental, social and financial impacts, as well as impacts on future generations.

Sustainable leadership can bring positive outcomes for organisations, such as cost savings, more loyal customers, more engaged employees and shareholders who are focused on long-term value.

In this workshop we will consider how sustainability can be positive for stakeholder relationships - and how to integrate sustainability into your own leadership journey.

Steve Pain, VP of Unilever will share valuable insights.

About the campus

All of our 2020 events (except from the online webinars) are held here at our Greenlands campus. Greenlands is a magnificent Grade II listed building, set in its own 30-acre estate in the beautiful Oxfordshire countryside alongside the River Thames and offers a perfect venue for reflection and learning.

Situated just 40 minutes by taxi from Heathrow Airport, on the outskirts of picturesque Henley-on-Thames, the Business School is easily accessed from the M4, M25 and M40 and offers secure on-site parking for up to 200 vehicles.

For those travelling by rail, trains run to Henley station via Twyford from London Paddington throughout the day. Taxis to the Business School take approximately 10 minutes from Henley station, or 30-40 minutes from Reading station.

Hotel accommodation is available on-site using the discount code HENLEYCOURSE.
